

Orientation: Registered Nurse Consultant & Field RN

All American Medical Staffing (AAMS)

Role Overview

As a Registered Nurse Consultant & Field RN with All American Medical Staffing, you play a critical role in delivering high-quality, compliant, and patient-centered home health services. This position requires clinical expertise, strong professional judgment, and the ability to consistently uphold agency standards, regulatory requirements, and patient safety protocols.

You serve as an extension of AAMS in the field in providing exceptional care, supporting client agencies with compliance-minded clinical performance, and maintaining readiness for regulatory surveys at all times.

Primary Responsibilities

1. Complete Skilled Nursing Visits

You will perform a variety of home health nursing visits including:

- Start of Care (SOC)
- Resumption of Care (ROC)
- Recertification Assessments
- Routine/Follow-Up Visits
- Plan of Care Development

These visits must be conducted with accuracy, professionalism, and according to established agency protocols and CMS/Home Health regulations.

2. Submit Documentation the Same Day

All documentation including OASIS-E assessments, visit notes, care coordination logs, and any communication records, must be submitted the same day of the visit. Failure to submit documentation on the same day will result in a $25 per day reduction in pay rate for each visit. This ensures:

- Regulatory compliance
- Continuity of care
- Timely billing for client agencies
- Reduced risk of errors or omissions

3. Follow Care Plans, Physician Orders & Regulatory Requirements

Nurses are expected to precisely follow established care plans and promptly communicate any changes in patient condition. Adherence to federal, state, and agency-specific regulations is essential to maintain compliance and survey readiness.

4. Maintain Timely, Clear Communication

You must maintain open, professional communication with:

- AAMS management
- Client agency clinical staff
- Physicians and other interdisciplinary team members
- Patients and their caregivers

Immediate notification is required for changes in patient condition, safety concerns, missing documentation, or barriers to completing an assignment.

5. Deliver Exceptional Patient Education & Clinical Care

Provide patients and caregivers with clear, compassionate teaching related to disease management, medications, safety, wound care, and all relevant home health instructions. Your care should reflect both clinical excellence and cultural sensitivity.

6. Support Agencies with Compliance-Driven Clinical Delivery

As a Consultant RN, part of your responsibility is to ensure agencies remain aligned with:

- CMS Conditions of Participation
 - State licensure rules
 - Documentation standards
 - Comprehensive assessments and skilled need criteria
- Your work helps agencies maintain audit readiness and uphold quality benchmarks.

7. Represent AAMS as a "Survey-Ready Nurse™"

You are expected to consistently demonstrate professionalism and compliance-focused practice. Every visit, every note, and every interaction should reflect survey-readiness at all times.

Key Competencies

1. Expert Understanding of Home Health Regulations

You must be well-versed in CMS guidelines, state-specific rules, and standard industry practices to ensure safe, compliant care delivery.

2. Mastery of OASIS-E1 & Documentation

Accuracy, thoroughness, and clarity in OASIS-E1 or current OASIS approved version assessments and visit notes are essential. Your documentation should support medical necessity, reflect the patient's true clinical status, and stand up to audits or surveys without deficiency.

3. Strong Communication & Patient Rapport

Build trust with patients, families, and interdisciplinary team members. Excellent communication helps ensure positive outcomes and smooth collaboration.

4. Ability to Follow Agency Processes & Systems

Each client agency may have unique workflows, EMR systems, or documentation expectations. Adherence to these systems is essential to delivering seamless clinical care. Access will be provided as applicable.

5. Professionalism Under Pressure

Situations may evolve rapidly in the home setting. You must navigate challenges with calmness, integrity, and professionalism.

6. Reliability & Consistent Follow-Through

Timeliness, accountability, and consistent follow-through are non-negotiable. You are expected to complete assigned tasks, meet deadlines, and communicate if assistance is needed.

7. Clinical Judgment Rooted in Safety & Compliance

Your decisions should prioritize patient safety, regulatory adherence, and accurate assessment. When uncertain, escalate concerns promptly.
