

Education Consultant Training
Specialized Curriculum
Development for Home
Care Agencies

Training Objective

Equip Ace Compliance Education Consultants with the skills and frameworks to design, deliver, and evaluate education programs that meet compliance standards, improve staff competency, and prepare agencies for success.

Design Excellence

Create customized training curricula tailored to agency needs

Compliance Focus

Align education with CMS, state, CHAP, and ACHC standards

Measurable Impact

Evaluate outcomes and deliver results that drive success

Section 1: The Role of the Education Consultant

Checklist for Understanding Your Role

01

Develop Customized Training

Design curricula specifically tailored for home care agencies

02

Ensure Regulatory Alignment

Align all education with CMS, state, CHAP, and ACHC standards

03

Identify Competency Gaps

Assess needs and design targeted training solutions

04

Facilitate Learning

Lead staff workshops, webinars, and continuing education

05

Evaluate Outcomes

Measure learning results and provide actionable insights

Case Scenario: Infection Control Challenge

📌 Scenario: A client agency struggles with repeated deficiencies in infection control.

Key Questions

- How would you design a training program to address this gap?
- What educational methods would be most effective?

Consider These Approaches:

- Interactive lecture with real-world examples
- Role-play scenarios for hands-on practice
- Live demonstration of proper techniques

Role-Play Exercise

Practice Time

Your Challenge

Deliver a 10-minute staff in-service on infection control that engages participants and demonstrates proper techniques.

Focus Areas:

- Hand hygiene protocols
- Personal protective equipment usage
- Environmental cleaning standards
- Documentation requirements

Section 2: Curriculum Design Framework

Checklist for Effective Curriculum Development

Identify Training Need

Assess compliance deficiency, performance gap, or new regulation

Define Learning Objectives

Establish clear, measurable goals for participants

Develop Aligned Content

Create materials matching regulatory standards and agency policies

Choose Delivery Format

Select classroom, online, blended, or hands-on approach

Create Materials

Develop slides, workbooks, quizzes, and handouts

Include Evaluation Tools

Measure learning outcomes with assessments

Case Scenario: Survey Readiness Training

- ❑ Scenario: A home health agency requests a training course for new administrators on survey readiness.

How do you design a curriculum that prepares them step-by-step?

Foundation Building

Introduce survey process, standards, and expectations

Documentation Mastery

Train on proper record-keeping and compliance documentation

Staff Preparation

Teach how to prepare teams for surveyor interactions

Mock Survey Practice

Conduct simulations to build confidence and readiness

Role-Play Exercise

Module Design Challenge

1

Draft Your Module

Create a sample outline for a "Survey Success Basics" course

2

Present Your Design

Share your curriculum structure with the group

Include These Elements:

- Course objectives and learning outcomes
- Module breakdown with time allocations
- Teaching methods for each section
- Assessment and evaluation strategy
- Materials and resources needed

Section 3: Teaching & Facilitation Techniques

Checklist for Effective Delivery

Interactive Methods

Use Q&A, case studies, and role-play to engage learners actively

Simplify Complexity

Transform complex compliance rules into actionable daily practices

Connect to Reality

Link content directly to participants' daily roles and responsibilities

Encourage Participation

Foster feedback and active engagement throughout sessions

Adapt Your Style

Adjust teaching approach for different audiences and learning needs

Case Scenario: Disengaged Learners

- ❏ Scenario: You're leading a training on documentation standards, but staff seem disengaged and resistant.

What teaching techniques can you use to re-engage them?

Break the Pattern

- Shift from lecture to interactive activity
- Use real-world scenarios they face daily
- Incorporate humor and relatable examples

Make It Relevant

- Ask about their specific challenges
- Show how documentation protects them
- Connect to survey outcomes they've experienced

Energize the Room

- Use movement and group activities
- Implement quick knowledge checks
- Celebrate small wins and participation

Role-Play Exercise

Handle Resistance

The Challenge

Simulate leading a 5-minute compliance training where participants push back or show disinterest.

Your Goal

Practice techniques to redirect resistance, build engagement, and maintain professional composure.

Common Resistance Patterns:

- "We've always done it this way"
- "This doesn't apply to my role"
- "We don't have time for this"
- Arms crossed, minimal eye contact

Response Strategies:

- Acknowledge concerns with empathy
- Provide specific, relevant examples
- Invite their expertise and input
- Refocus on shared goals

Section 4: Reporting & Evaluation of Training

Checklist for Measuring Success

Case Scenario: Post-Training Failure

❏ Scenario: After your training, the agency still fails a documentation review during a survey.

Critical Questions

How do you adjust your training approach?

- Analyze what knowledge gaps remain
- Identify barriers to implementation
- Assess if training was too theoretical
- Determine if follow-up support was adequate

Additional Supports

What can you provide to ensure compliance is achieved?

- Hands-on documentation workshops
- One-on-one coaching sessions
- Job aids and quick reference guides
- Regular competency check-ins
- Peer mentoring programs

Role-Play Exercise

Present Evaluation Results

1

Prepare Your Report

Compile training metrics, feedback, and outcomes data

2

Highlight Successes

Showcase knowledge gains and positive participant feedback

3

Identify Opportunities

Present areas for improvement and recommended next steps

4

Deliver with Confidence

Present your summary to an administrator professionally

Your presentation should balance celebrating achievements with providing honest assessment of areas needing continued focus. Include specific recommendations for sustaining improvements and addressing remaining gaps.

Section 5: Key Takeaways

Education as Solution
